County backtrack on parking meters

PLANS to introduce parking meters in Lyme Regis have been thrown into doubt, as county councillors have now agreed to review the scheme across Dorset.

Dorset County Council previously proposed to eradicate free town centre parking and install meters in Broad Street, Pound Street and outside the library in Silver Street.

the county's Environment Overview Committee has now voted unanimously to put the brakes on the controversial plans while their impact across the county is looked at again.

The cross-party panel listened to concerns raised in Lyme Regis, Bridport and Blandford and heard academic research which contradicts the county's claims that on-street parking boosts trade on the high street.

The committee also heard from district councillor for Langton Matravers, Mike Lovell, who said the scheme had been "disastrous for Swanage"

The parameters of the review will be decided at the next Planning Policy Panel on October 16th.

The decision to review the parking meter proposals comes after widespread objection from local residents and traders.

A petition against the plans, organised by the new Lyme Regis Business Group, now has over 1,000 signatures.

Speaking on the proposals, group chairman Tony Colston said: "It seems very odd that Dorset County Council should be considering this as it flies in the face of the government's own recommendations about providing free parking in the centre of towns to encourage shoppers, and this is even more relevant in small towns like Lyme Regis, Blandford and Bridport.

"I also believe that all three councils are fully behind the 'No' campaign. Indeed, I hear that Dorchester and Swanage are starting a campaign to have the meters removed in their towns because they have been so unpopular."

Town councillors discussed the proposed parking meters at a special meeting last week.

MARCUS Dilling, 37, was born in Taunton and educated at Holyrood School in Chard. He trained as a butcher and became a Master Butcher, now working in Weymouth where he moved to in 2000.

His main hobbies and interests include mechanics and cooking. He claims to be able to fix anything that's broken and cook anything that can burn!

Marcus' favourite is baking cakes, especially passion fruit cakes which he says are

WHY do you live in Weymouth?

My mother's side of the family live here. By the time I was 25 I was looking to come here for work and I was lucky enough to find it.

WHERE do you go for your holidays?

Legoland and theme parks mostly, sometimes to Italy and especially to Rome. That is my favourite city because it is untouched since Roman times.

WHAT is your favourite time of the year?

Summer because it is warm and everyone seems to be happier in the sunshine.

WHAT is your favourite film?

"The Shawshank Redemption" - it is a very exciting story about a man being jailed and the incredible sequence of events which followed. I also like "The Green Mile".

WHAT is the scariest thing that has ever happened to you?

Having children. It really scares to me think of not being able to watch them grow up because I love both of my children.

IF you could live your life again what would you be?

I don't think I would change anything. I have gone through some things and I have come out of it a better person and I really would not want to change that.

INTERVIEW

WHICH three people would you invite to your dream dinner party?

I would invite Julius Caesar because I love Roman history and the Egyptian boy pharaoh Tutankhamun because I want to ask him how they really made the pyramids. My third choice would be model and television presenter Kelly Brook because she is gorgeous.

WHAT would you do if you won the Lottery?

I would buy all my family a house. I would also probably go back to college to do a business course in retail to open my own butcher's shop. I would not give up work, God no!

WHAT do you hope the future holds?

I just hope a new political party can be formed to really do something for the people of this country because the ones we've got at the moment have no idea how to run the country for the people

Lyme Regis man helps prevent accident on A35

A LYME Regis man helped prevent a potentially tragic crash on the A35 after he spotted an elderly woman's car rolling backwards on a hill.

Chris Aylott, a mains layer for Wessex Water's construction firm WECs, was travelling home last Tuesday afternoon when he spotted the car on the A35 near Win-

The rolling car, a silver Vauxhall, was on the slip road heading towards Muckleford, with smoke coming from its engine.

Mr Aylott pulled over to stop the car from rolling back onto the main road.

He said: "I was just concerned for the safety of the other vehicles on the road. If the car had rolled into the main road it could have been catastrophic."

Mr Aylott parked his van at the bottom of the slip road and put his hazard lights on to warn other drivers.

He added: "I would rather it had hit my van than rolled into oncoming traffic.

"I didn't think it was a particularly brave thing to do. I just did what anyone else would have done in that sit-

The elderly lady, who had managed to get out of the vehicle and was standing on the side of the road, told Mr Aylott that her handbrake was not working.

He said: "There was clearly something wrong with the engine, but she was on her own and didn't know what to do."

He managed to hold the car still until he was helped by another driver to push the car up to the top of hill.

Mr Aylott added: "I was concerned for everyone's safety. The A35 is a bit of an accident blackspot, but I am just glad the lady was alright and had managed to get out of her car."

Parking meters a waste of money, says town council

before news that Dorset County Council would be reviewing their proposals.

Town councilors unanimously agreed to reject the proposal, saying they were mindful of the negative feedback from residents and local traders and did not think any fur-ther public money should be "wasted" in pursuing the pro-

Councillors agreed that the cost of £40,000 for parking meters in Lyme Regis, Dorchester and Swanage was an in-appropriate amount of money, which would be better spent on local bus services currently under threat, including the Sidmouth Road park and ride bus, which they believed was of more benefit to the town than parking meters

Councillors also agreed that the county council had not built up a sufficient enough case to warrant the installation of parking meters and did not think it would improve parking problems or increase visitor turnover in the town cen-

Beach hut booking

LYME Regis Town Council is bracing itself for a busy Saturday morning when local residents will get priority beach hut booking for the first time.

The council has given precedence to Lyme Regis council tax payers and will open its office for a special booking morning on Saturday, October 5th from 9am to 12noon, when 13 rented huts will be available for residents only.

Residents must remember to bring a valid council tax bill for their Lyme Regis property and payment must be made on booking.

Existing licensees will keep chalets saved from landslip

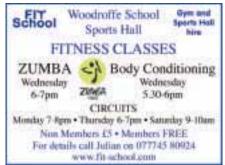

MONMOUTH Beach chalets that will be moved forward to protect them from landslips, if planning permission is received, will not be given to those who have lost chalets in the past.

Instead, the chalets will remain with the current licensees despite arguments that, when moved forward, they will create a "new site" and therefore should be given to those on a waiting list who have lost chalets to landslips since 2008.

Lyme Regis Town Council is currently waiting for planning permission to move the Monmouth Beach chalets approximately 15 metres forward to protect them from further landslips at the site. The proposal is part of an application for the continued use of Monmouth Beach as a chalet and caravan site, which the council had to apply for after the previous permission expired in July. However, recent landslides have complicated the application.

In planning terms, moving the chalets forward would

Baptist Church marks 360 years of worship

LYME Regis Baptist Church is holding special events to mark 360 years of worship this weekend.

The church is one of the earliest non-conformist churches in England. As a result of religious persecution, the original congregation were forced to travel to worship at the Loughwood Meeting House near Kilmington. Eventually, greater religious freedom enabled them to worship together in Lyme Regis itself where, in the mid 18th century, the present chapel was built.

tury, the present chapel was built.
For 360 years the congregation has sought to faithfully announce the gospel of Jesus Christ in the town. This weekend's celebrations (October 5th and 6th) will seek to reflect upon the continuity between past, present and future.

Members of the congregation will reenact the walk from Loughwood Meeting House in Kilmington to Lyme Regis on Saturday morning. This will start with a short service of dedication at Loughwood Meeting House followed by the walk, with some dressed in clothes of the period, using the paths used by the worshippers of the 1650s

At 2.30pm a thanksgiving service will be held at Lyme Regis Baptist Church where the speaker will be the Reverend David Evans, chaplain of Plymouth University, followed by light refreshments.

On Sunday, October 6th a family service will be held at 10.30am followed by a baptism in the River Lim, at Windsor Terrace, starting at 2pm.

David gets a new look!

FORMER Woodroffe School maths teacher turned artist, David Manners, looks like a new man after shaving off his beard for charity. Lyme Regis resident David went under the razor after 34 years with his familiar beard, meaning his wife Angela had never seen him without it. Luckily, she was impressed with her new-look husband following the sponsored shave at the Nag's Head on Friday night, completed by Angela's daughter, Lorraine Chantry (pictured with David). The shave raised £300 on the night for art and craft materials for Axminster-based charity, The Project, which helps young peo-ple with mental illnesses, plus an estimated £200 via text donations. David, who has first-hand experience of mental illness, said he was 'delighted' to support the charity and would not be growing back his beard. Photos by RICHARD AUSTIN

Mayor reopens Lloyds after bank 'revitalised'

■ REOPENING: The Mayor, Councillor Sally Holman, officially reopens Lloyds Bank alongside staff members Abigail Aston, Chris Maxwell and customers

LLOYDS Bank in Lyme Regis was officially reopened by the Mayor, Councillor Sally Holman, last week after a company rebrand.

Lloyds Bank branches across the country were "revitalised" last week, having switched from Lloyds TSB following the launch of a separate TSB bank in September.

Staff at the Lyme Regis branch welcomed customers to join them for drinks and nibbles before Councillor Holman cut a ribbon to officially reopen the branch.

Staff emphasised that they would continue to focus on providing "exceptional service to customers" following the reopening.

Owen Woodley, managing director of Lloyds Bank Retail, said: "This marks another milestone in Lloyds Bank's history. The revitalisation of the brand is an exciting time for the bank but also four our customers.

"We are committed to going even further to support our customers with the things that really matter in life. The revitalisation reinforces our commitment to better serve our customers as well as delivering on our promise of helping Britain prosper."

Customers of both Lloyds Bank and TSB will be able to use both banks for their everyday needs for some time to help them adapt to the changes. During this period, customers can carry out the majority of transactions in branch, irrespective of brand, receiving the same level of service and efficinecy as they would receive from their own branch and bank.

LYME Regis and Charmouth got behind Macmillan Cancer Support's national "World's Biggest Coffee Morning" campaign last week.

Coffee, cakes and jewellery were sold at The Hub youth club in Lyme Regis on Friday (pictured below left). It was not known how much was raised at the time of going to press.

A second coffee morning was held at Nisa Charmouth Stores on Saturday morning (pictured top left), where customers enjoyed refreshments, cakes and took part in a raffle. The event raised a total of £440.48.

Organisers would like to thank photographer Simon Emmett for the donation of his canvas and all those who supported the event.

First local reading for Rousdon author

INTERNATIONALLY acclaimed writer Suniti Namjoshi made her first local appearance at the Marine Theatre on Friday evening.

Organised by Serendip Bookshop, Rousdon-based Suniti gave a rare reading at the theatre's Stage Door Bar from her latest two books, "Blue and Other Stories" and "The Fabulous Feminist", after which guests were able to meet and chat to the author.

Suniti writes fables, poetry, satiric fiction, children's fiction and the occasional article. She has published more than 30 titles in India, Australia, Canada, the US and UK, as well as appearing in an extensive range of anthologies and collections.

Although she has read at book fairs and festivals all over the world this was her first public appearance in Lyme Regis.

Town Mill looking for feedback

THE Town Mill in Lyme Regis is asking local residents how they would like to see the mill complex develop over the coming years.

Town Mill trustee, Philip George, said there was a "good buzz" around the mill complex, with a variety of shops and facilities, but they were keen to build on this for future years.

He explained: "The Town Mill is a key part of Lyme Regis, both for residents and holiday-makers. Together with the working water mill itself, we have a mix of shops, such as the cheesemonger and the pottery, and spaces focusing on arts and crafts, such as the Malthouse and the Lower Gallery.

"We've tried hard to get this mix right, and we feel there has been a good buzz around the mill this summer, with the café and brewery working well together. "We're also making changes. Many readers may have seen our new signs around the town, which have received positive feedback. We're also planning a new visitors' centre, which will replace the mill shop.

"However, now is a good time to take stock and to think about the next few years. We would like to know what Lyme Regis residents would like the mill to provide and what changes they would like to see.

"We've already had some suggestions, such as improving access to the upper floors and running a craft market at weekends. We'll spend the next couple of weeks canvassing opinions, and then try to build the leading ideas into our plans."

Philip is inviting feedback directly to him by emailing Philip.m.george@inbox.com

Free Car Seat Safety Check

Babygear Car Park Bridport DT6 3RL • Sat Oct 5th 3.30-6.30

PARENTS are putting young children at risk of serious injury by fitting the wrong type of car seat.

The AA and car seat manufacturer Britax conducted a joint survey, and found that just 32.5% of drivers installed child car seats properly and, worryingly, more than 83% of drivers questioned were unaware of the UK's strict rules on the use of child car seats.

Researchers visiting a council car seat fitting clinic in Cambridgeshire.found every single one of the car seats bought on line was wrong for the car, wrong for the child or incorrectly fitted! Which? magasine warned against buying child seats from websites which offer inadequate advice and no fitting service. Which? found independent retailers the best for offering sound accurate advice with Major supermarkets Tesco and Asda coming bottom in the survey scoring just 22 per cent and 4 per cent respectively.

UK law states that all children travelling by car must use a suitable car seat until they are 135cm tall or 12 years old Babygear is celebrating 30 years of fitting carseats and cares about your child being safe. We price match where we can and always have some really good deals and discounted prices. We will also fit and advise for free! Which? Magazine advises parents to go to a store and try them out, with your child and your car.

Do you value your child's life?? If so then please come to Babygear on October 5th to have your car seat checked by trained staff. There will be no charge and the check should take approx. 10 mins.

Abstract challenge for photo club

MEMERS of the Lyme Bay Photographic Club were met with a completely new challenge at the judging of their abstract-theme competition.

Before she began judging, Penny Piddock, from Weymouth, gave a definition of the subject which encompassed wide-ranging criteria, allowing competition entrants almost unlimited scope to use their imagination.

After an initial selection, Penny encouraged members to aire their views on which images they thought met the criteria. She then went on to award places to those images she felt worthy of a place.

Winners of the print section were, in 1st place, "As Time Goes By" by Barbara Jones, in 2nd place "Steely Explosion" by Jenny Wallis and "Spider's Web" by Jennifer Hollands was placed 3rd.

Winners of the PDI section were, in 1st place, "Water Patterns in the Sand" by Jennifer Holands, 2nd "Staircase to Paradise" by John Moore and 3rd "Abstract Pills" by Ron Ghost.

After the break there followed an enthusiastic discussion on the subject of what was creative photography. Penny had earlier sent along a digital image and asked members to show their own creativity by enhancing it in any way they liked.

One or two members showed their attempts then Penny displayed hers and some other examples of the images she had collected whilst giving her talk to other groups.

Club members were then treated to some of Penny's own successful pictures, which had been enhanced using digital imaging, along with other local well known photographers' pictures.

The next meeting is on Friday, October 11th when Garry Hayball will judge the "Abandoned" competition and show a selection of his birds and nature images.

ArtsFest'scaled new heights'

ORGANISERS of the eleventh Lyme Regis ArtsFest have said the event "scaled new heights" this year.

The annual event, which came to a close on Sunday, surpassed itself in terms of "originality of thought and scope, the talent on show and the level of engagement between artists and public".

It is thought much of this was down to the thought-provoking "re:collection" exhibition, the result of a year-long collaboration between ArtsFest and Lyme Regis Museum, in which artists took inspiration from museum artefacts to create varied new collections of work.

The work on show at the Town Mill Malthouse varied from a replica kitchen and life-sized drawings to moving textiles about abandoned children and dramatised readings from the Regency poem "The Lymiad".

A replica bathing machine and collection of unique deck chairs were also displayed on the seafront, proving to be a popular attraction, while Gail Sagman's "The Great and the Small" exhibition at the Jam Factory in Uplyme, inspired by her travels to Nepal, became the talking point of the festival.

The group exhibition in the Baptist Church Hall was also deemed by many to have been the highest quality of work ever on display there. The festival also included a packed programme of workshops, demonstrations and open studios, finishing with an art and craft market on the seafront over the weekend.

While final figures are still being collated, visitor numbers of 2,900 have smashed previous records and sales figures seem to be the second best in the festival's 11-year history.

Although ArtsFest is over for another year, partaking artists will continue to display their work at special events. "The Great and the Small" exhibition at the Jam Factory in Uplyme will re-open from October 18th to December 8th with viewings by appointment (gailsagman@yahoo.co.uk or 07960 019 180), culminating in a one-off theatrical event at the Marine Theatre on December 8th from 3pm to 6pm.

Five more re:collection artists will be curating their own exhibitions at the Rotunda Gallery at Lyme Regis Museum from December 4th until September 14th 2014.

Time to turn Lyme pink!

THE Lyme Regis Branch of Cancer Research UK is hoping to turn the town pink in aid of Breast Cancer Awareness Month.

October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month and the branch is holding its own fundraiser, as well as asking the town to join the campaign and help boost funds.

The branch will be holding its annual coffee morning and cake sale at the Baptist Church Hall from 10am to 1pm on Friday, October 25th, which they have named "Lyme Goes Pink Day".

Members of the branch will soon be contacting local traders to ask for their help in turning the town pink by dressing up, decorating their windows, selling cakes, holding raffles or collecting money.

All those interested in taking part should contact branch secretary

Francesca Evans on 01297 446154 or email francesca@pemedia.co.uk, who can provide pink balloons, collection tins, t-shirts and other fundraising merchan-

All money raised will be collected by a member of the branch following the event and sent to Cancer Research UK.

The branch organises a number of fundraising events each year and, since establishing in 2007, has now raised more than £40,000. It is hoped a further £10,000 will be donated this year, which will include money raised at the group's main fundraiser, the Great Lyme Regis Christmas Pudding Race, which will be held on Marine Parade on Saturday, December 7th. # Charmouth hosts fourth literary festival

THE fourth Charmouth Literary Festival will take place this weekend on Saturday, October 5th, 9.30am to 4.30pm.

The theme this year is "People and Places" and is inspired by those presenting their work who come from varied writing backgrounds.

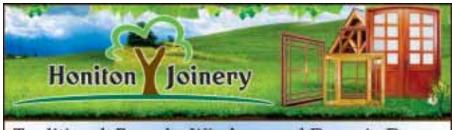

The annual festival has been building over the past four years and always includes the work of local writers.

There will be audience participation for those who want to try out writing, as well as a "soapbox" during the lunch hour where anyone can read out a piece of their own work or something that appeals to them.

For those who enjoy reading books and want to know more about the people behind them, the festival will offer a variety of topics, from biography and travel writing, to poetry and plays, as well as talks on e-books and getting published.

This one-day event is free. For more information contact Wendy Knee by phoning 01297 561493, email wendy@wendyknee.com or visit the website www.charmouthliteraryfestival.org.uk

RECENTLY wrote about how Lyme had, yet again this summer, punched above its weight as a resort where there was a virtual nonstop programme of festivals and events during the busiest weeks of the season, attracting tens of thousands to our town.

As a write this column, Lyme Regis ArtsFest has drawn to another successful conclusion, having grown in stature and reputation as it moves into its second decade.

The general opinion of those closely involved on the organisation of Arts-Fest is that this year's programme "scaled new heights" with the various events and activities attracting record numbers

Following my comments about Lyme "punching above its weight" I'm aware of a debate among many in the town about extending the town's festival programme against the need to allow for those who want to enjoy

"quiet Lyme". I was made acutely aware that not everyone comes to Lyme, even during the peak weeks, for wall-to-wall racaus entertainment.

I compered one of the town's more crazy events - Lyme Lympics - held late in August, which provides great fun for all ages on the Cobb beach.

Afterward, someone commented that they thought my commentary, compared with the previous year, was a little "lack lustre" and I had to agree. What they didn't know was that for quite a while during that afternoon I had an obnoxious character virtually affixed to my elbow repeatedly telling me to "shut up", explaining that they had come to Lyme to enjoy its peaceful location and didn't want to hear me rabbiting on all afternoon. I suspect many have felt that way over the years!

So I decided to tone it down a towards the end of the afternoon. Was this the correct action to take, or as everyone seemed to be having such a good time, should I have told this chap to take a running jump into the harbour?

Those who enjoy Lyme's natural beauty usually visit the town in early or late season, but there will be those coming to Lyme during the height of the season who are looking for a peaceful holiday.

As in most things, it's a matter of balance. I have always been an advocate of there being a week's break between the town's two biggest events. Lifeboat Week and the Regatta & Carnival - and this has usually been the case, the current past season being an exception.

I attended a committee meeting of the recently formed Lyme Regis Business Group on Monday and was amazed at how much progress has been made since the organisation was formed just a few weeks ago. Traders and local business owners are being invited to another meeting this evening (Wednesday) when details of the many new ideas to boost the town's economy will be revealed and discussed.

Recognising that the peak weeks are already busy enough, a number of ideas for other specialist weekends in the shoulder months (early and late summer) are being investigated.

Lyme is very fortunate in having groups of people who worked tremendously hard during the summer months to ensure that holidaymakers enjoy their stay.

And we should not forget that we locals have a good time as well.

■ WHEN Lyme councillors decided to pay themselves expenses, the argument was put forward that it would encourage more young parents, including single parents, to offer themselves up for election as the money would help towards childminding costs.

To date, there has been no evidence of this but with the town possibly going to the polls on November 14th perhaps this will change.

Just for the record, the councillors who decided to take their allowance last year, published on the town council's website, were: Councillors Lucy Campbell, Mark Gage, Lorna Jenkin Terry O'Grady, George Symonds and Anita Williams.

Councillor Symonds donated his to the jubilee celebrations fund.

Boyhood recollections from China Town

ON page 18 of this week's View from Lyme Regis we publish the first in a four-part series on what life was like growing up on the Colway Mead estate just after the years of the Second World War.

Colway Mead was also known as China Town and when the houses were build in the pre-war years they were the first social housing to be provided in Dorset.

The series has been written by Lyme-born Les Loveridge, who lived in South Avenue with mum and dad, Stella and Jack Loveridge, Jack having just returned from war service with the Royal Navy.

His recollections will touch a cord for many local people. Those were the days when you knew everyone who lived in your road, your back door was always unlocked and you all looked out for one another.

I lived for most of my formative years in Anning Road and, thanks to Maggie Thatcher, bought my mum's old home where the Evans family still reside (well, two of us at least!).

I, too, can remember everyone who lived in our road, but I'm a little ashamed to say that I don't know them all today.

Some time ago, when I couldn't think of much to write about in this column and I thought I should give the councillors a break, I waxed lyrically about the camaraderie that existed in Anning Road, especially on a Sunday morning when all our fathers toiled away growing vegetables and rearing chickens to supplement the kitchen table to the strains of "Two Way Family Favourites". One of my more critical readers thought I had lost the plot completely; others said I had made them cry. That's nostalgia for you.

When Les tentatively asked if I would publish his boyhood recollections, I immediately said "yes" after a quick flip through his neatly typed pages. Because there before me was part of my childhood memories as well - names to conjure with - "Tisser George" the most memorable of them all.

As Les says, they were indeed our "halcyon days".

You can choose everything from a regular print to having your picture printed on a coaster, jigsaw puzzle, mug, t-shirt ...and much more!

■ NEW TENT: The 1st Charmouth Scouts with Bridport Lions Club President, Peter Garlick, and welfare chairman Peter Bonner

Charmouth Scouts receive new tent from Lions Club

WHEN the Bridport Lions Club contacted the 1st Charmouth Scout Group and asked them what piece of camping equipment they would most like, their immediate answer was "a large, lightweight shelter".

A few weeks later, thanks to funds from the Lions, their request was answered with the arrival of a Khyam Sports Shelter.

Scout leader Kevin Payne said: "We have an ex-army mess tent that is great for standing camps, but we needed a lightweight version that could be transported in a car for weekend activities. The Khyam Sportshelter was the ideal solution, as it not only weighs less than a quarter of the army tent, but can also be erected in a matter of minutes.

"We were delighted that the Bridport Lions agreed to buy this for us."

Last Thursday, the scouts demonstrated to the Lions' welfare chairman, Peter Bonner, and president Peter Garlick just how quickly it could be set up - less than two minutes, according to the stopwatch.

The tent has already had its first outing. The group used it last weekend as its base for the County 24-hour Activity Camp – Dragon 24. Being so simple to erect, the group is sure it will be used a lot more in the future.

Pumping station opens to public

GOING UNDERGROUND: Residents of Lyme Regis ready to tour the Gun Cliff Sewage Pumping Station

HUNDREDS of South West Water customers gained an insight into the company's operations on free guided tours of two operational sites - one in Lyme Regis.

A total of 285 people looked behind the scenes at Gun Cliff Sewage Pumping Station in Lyme Regis and Roadford Dam, near Broadwoodwidger, as part of the national Heritage Open Days programme in September.

The tour at Gun Cliff offered residents an opportunity to find out how waste water from the town's population is discreetly transported further inland for treatment.

Monica Read, South West Water's Customer Relations Director, said: "It's important we show our customers exactly how we provide such essential services to communities across the region, which is why every year we support the Heritage Open Days programme and open up sites normally closed to the public.

"Thank you to all our customers who turned out to see and hear more about the complex operations we carry out every day in order to deliver high standards of service, from secure drinking water supply through to safe disposal of treated waste water."

Local resident Jenny Short enjoyed the guided tour of Gun Cliff.

She said: "It was a fascinating tour. We will all be more careful with what we put down the loo after seeing what happens to the pump machinery when it gets bleated."

Vintage clothes trader moves to Busby's

OWNER of Lyme Regis' former vintage clothing shop, Sublyme Vintage, is now working for the new Busby Auction House in Bridport.

Harriet Cunningham, who ran the popular Silver Street store, has been collecting vintage couture for years and is hoping to achieve higher sale prices by taking advantage of the latest auction house technology.

The clothes will be auctioned live

The clothes will be auctioned live worldwide on website Saleroom.com. Busby's first collection of vintage clothing and textiles will be auctioned on October 9th, with regular sales in the future.

LYME Regis lifeboat crew and their families enjoyed an end of summer barbecue at the Power Boat Club on Saturday.

As well as the attractions, including a bouncy castle for the children, hog roast, a live band and disco, they also honoured one of the crew's longest-serving members.

Richard "Bevvy" Beviss was presented with the RNLI's 20 years' voluntary service badge and framed letter. Richard, 48, is the lifeboat station's tractor driver and received his award from another stalwart, Jon Broome.

Barbecue organiser and lifeboat helmsman Dave Street said: "The barbecue was a special treat for the crew and their families, who are such great supporters of our voluntary duties."

Moodboards - save you time, money & your sanity!

HOW DOES A MOOD BOARD WORK?

A moodboard is a representation of all that you want to use for your colour scheme. Interior designers create them when they're planning new looks, and it's a method that will help you, too. By combining your proposed paint colour, samples of wallpapers, fabrics and flooring, and pictures of furniture and accessories, you can see the elements of your room in one place, try out alternatives, and check your favourites all work together perfectly.

HOW TO MAKE A MOOD BOARD

To create your moodboard, you'll need to start with a plain piece of board - A3 is perfect, and bigger if you prefer. Then collect examples of everything you might want to use in the room. Buy tester pots for paints, and get samples of wallpaper, fabrics and carpet or other flooring from suppliers. When it comes to furniture and accessories, cut out pictures from magazines and catalogues. You might want to take your own photos, too, of items you see and like, as well as of the parts of your existing room that you're keep.

Helpful little tips!

KEEP NOTES AS YOU SHOP: It's a good idea to make a note on the back of the paint color cards, telling yourself the name of the store where you picked it up, and the paint brand whenever this information isn't printed there already. Since most home centers and hardware stores carry more than one brand of paint, you may discover the perfect color, and then find you can't remember where you got the sample! Then you'll have to start over. Ugh!

SHED A LITTLE LIGHT: The best way to get a true view of a paint color is to look at it in many lights. Take the paint chip outside to see it in natural light. Look at in under an incandescent and fluorescent light. Best yet, take the paint chip, fabrics, and accessories to the room in which they'll live. Check out the colors there.

PICKING A SOFA: A sofa is one of the most important furniture purchases for your home, so before you buy a sofa make sure you are getting one that fits your needs.

A sofa that is perfect for your living room could be a terrible idea for your family room. First figure out how you want to use your sofa and who will be using it. Determine whether your sofa is a good fit for your space, and since there are sofas to fit any style of room, look for one that satisfies your own personal sense of style. The fabric you select for your sofa contributes immensely to its usability and beauty.

Just as when you buy any furniture, you should be confident that you are buying the best quality sofa for your budget, and that it offers you the comfort you need from it.

Lyme's bastion of the working class

OLWAY Mead – that bastion of the Lyme Regis working class during the mid and late 1940s, also known as "China Town" due to many of the married women living there who worked at the laundry in Mill Green, or another theory, because collectively the house roofs looked oriental. Unfortunately, there is no-one left alive who can substantiate its true origin.

On reflection, because of its almost isolated location, with Anning Road, Queen's Walk and King's Way - the new estate - having not yet been built, the Mead could have been described as an almost idyllic outpost, due to its well kept gardens, flowers in the front, vegetables in the back, and its grassy pavements, always regularly tended to by the old borough council employees, along with their other tasks of looking after the cemetery and River Lim from Horn Bridge down to the beach.

down to the beach.

It was also a safe haven for its residents, due, I suppose, to all of them being non-materialistic, acquiring possessions not being considered important, when compared to the safe return of husbands and fathers from the war, having enough to eat and gaining employment.

Employment wasn't easy to obtain and very little, if any, monetary assistance was available. However, we had won the war, the "lucky" men were returning home and the mood was always one of good neighbourliness and optimism.

Because of this background I can recall many characters who helped to mould the kids of the Mead, myself included, into what most of us became. And because I am now a grumpy old man, I would like to share my memories whilst walking around Colway Mead during that "oh so wonderful!" early period of my life.

I lived at number 2 South Avenue, along with my mum Stella and dad Jack "Beetroot" after his return from the Royal Navy. Next Door at number 3 were our good friends Ernest "Rat" and Gladys Curtis. I called her Curt because I couldn't say Gladys. She was always saving me from a "clip around the ear" from my mother for something I had or hadn't done. Ernest, prior to the war, worked on the horse bus that used to run from the Royal Lion in Lyme to Bridport, his main task braking the bus down the steep Charmouth and Chideock hills so as not to allow the horses to run wild.

At number 5 lived Mr and Mrs Rattenbury and their sons, Roy and Graham. Mrs Rattenbury always stood at her gate and invariably asked if I was alright when I passed on my way to school.

Deep water

Number 6 was "Goosey" Gollop, our town crier, whose teenage son Maurice - we called him Mo - had a little pet terrier called Trixie. For fun - his, not the dog's - Mo would stand on Horn Bridge and drop Trixie into the deep water of the river below, a drop of some 10 to 15 feet, after which he would laugh and Trixie would swim to the river bank, go back to Mo, and let him do it all over again, much to the Colway Kids' enjoyment.

the Colway Kids' enjoyment.

At Number 7 was "Timmer"
Loveridge who had a small stone castle in his front garden and always kept his garden in pristine condition.

At Number 8 was Mr Toomer who worked for the council, I think, cleaning the drains being one of his tasks. At the junction of South Avenue and Colway Lane, there is/was a manhole

■ CHINA TOWN: The first social housing in Dorset and so called, perhaps, because viewed from the other side of the valley the roofs of the houses looked like Chinese hats which covered a very deep drain and he always told me if I wasn't a good boy and did what my mum told me he would put me down the drain and put the cover on. I can't remember the number of times I told my mum to tell him I was a good boy and every time we met him in the street I went rigid in anticipation, such was my childhood imagination.

At Number 9 Mrs Rowe had a pet tortoise called Toby. Toby had a habit of straying into the road. If I saw it in the road and took it back to Mrs Rowe, she would always give me a penny. I must confess, on some occassions, I picked him up from her garden and took him back. After all these years... the truth!

Number 12 was the home of Mrs

Number 12 was the home of Mrs Tuck and son George who both went to live in Australia after the war.

In number 13 lived Mr and Mrs Sam Curtis and Sam's brother "Tisser" George who would ask anyone he saw if they had a "natch" to light his pipe, which he constantly had in his mouth. Folklore has it that George, who kept a rowing boat on the back beach to collect his lobster pots, rowed by a swimmer one summer and asked him "got a natch mister?".

On the end of South Avenue lived Mr and Mrs Long with boys Sid and Bert. Bert Long, aptly named due to him being at least 6' 10", had an allotment at the back of the Lower North Avenue houses, now a car park between North Avenue and the bottom of Queen's Walk. Anyway, he grew so many delicious vegetables and fruit that we kids had never seen before, we were spoilt for choice. And do you know what? We never heard him complain about our helping ourselves.

He probably knew we were helping ourselves and grew enough for us all, such was the comradeship and attitude during those halcyon years.

■ NEXT WEEK: Les continues his boyhood stroll through Colway Mead.

The number of people being diagnosed with breast cancer is increasing, but the good news is survival rates are improving. This is probably because of more targeted treatments, earlier detection and better breast awareness.

The biggest risk factor, after gender, is increasing age - 80% of breast cancers occur in women over the age of 50.

Breast cancer also affects men, but it's rare – around 300 men are diagnosed each year.

Breast cancer is not one single disease there are several types of breast cancer.

Not all breast cancers show as a lump, and not all breast lumps are breast cancer.

Less than 10% of breast cancer runs in families, so having someone in your family with breast cancer doesn't necessarily mean your own risk is increased.

Around 50,000 new cases of invasive and non-invasive (DCIS)* breast cancer are diagnosed each year in the UK. This October around 4,000 people will receive the devastating news they have breast cancer.

Nearly 12,000 people die from breast cancer in the UK every year.**

Breast cancer is the second biggest cause of death from cancer for women in the UK, after lung cancer.

Parking meters will not benefit locals

■ THE following letter was sent to Simon Gledhill, parking services manager at Dorset County Council, regarding the proposed parking meters in Lyme

I cannot agree with your comment on double parking as I have never observed this. The only inappropriate parking is by commercial vehicles (vans and lorries)m also cars being parked for a few minutes out-

Delivery vehicles consistently park on the wrong side of the road causing obstruction, which is compounded when a surge of traffic passes through from either direction.

I can only believe that this is a money-making exercise merely raising revenue from parking and enforcement, which will not benefit the local populace or the traders or improve the image of the town. It could also drive people to shop online or outside of the town in the supermarkets where parking is free.

Local shops may appear to be managing in busy times but it is like swimming against the tide; this winter will see many fail when at times the town will be empty of customers.

I do not believe that your ambitions in any way conform with the thinking of Eric Pickles or his intended

Blymey! New business to support 'little man'

A NEW PR company set up in Lyme Regis plans to support "the little man" by offering half price publicity to small businesses.

The Blymey PR Company has been set up by one of the region's most experienced publicists, Geoff Baker, who was Sir Paul McCartney's PR for 15 years and recently brought record-breaking event Guitars On The Beach to Lyme Regis.

Blymey PR will specialise in providing top rank publicity services to small businesses, groups and individuals who thought that they could not afford their own PR. The company pledges to undercut mainstream PR businesses by offering services at half the standard publicity price.

Mr Baker has 40 years experience in journalism and PR. His previous clients have included: MGM, BBC TV Drama, Little Brown & Co, United Biscuits, The National Trust, EMI, Ross Youngs, ITV, Stella Mc-Cartney, Friends Of the Earth and The Beatles' company Apple Corps.

Known best for his work with Sir Paul, Mr Baker has also provided international publicity services for The Rolling Stones, Oasis and Linda McCartney Locally, he has done PR work for the Town Mill Cheesemonger, The Old Watch House fishmonger, Lyme Regis Development Trust, the Lyme Lympics, Mark Hix and The Hub, and he was the creator and publicist of Guitars On The Beach.

He said: "I am very lucky to have worked with some of the biggest names and that experience has given me skills and expertise which I'm now offering to the litnesses, event organisers, individuals and organisations who need hands-on help with getting more attention for whatever they

"All businesses need to promote themselves in a recession but as money gets tight traditional advertising becomes difficult to afford. But inventive PR can provide an alternative but cheaper way of effectively raising

"I'm here to help anyone who needs a PR hand with anything and I'm offering my services at half the standard rates because there's no need to be greedy at a time when everyone is struggling.

"No job is too small and no brief too difficult."

Mr Baker, who was the PR at 301 rock shows on six concert tours with Sir Paul, said he is especially keen to help local bands get more limelight.

"When everyone wants to be a star it's difficult to make it, but I've learnt a few tricks in my time which I'm happy to pass on to the many promising bands young and old - who want to make more of a splash, he added.

Major Hollywood Star to Celebrate National Poetry Day in Lyme Regis

Natascha McElhone will feature in Look, Stranger at the Marine Theatre

HOLLYWOOD A-lister Natascha McElhone is making time from her busy film schedule to appear in a special event at The Marine Theatre in Lyme Regis on Friday, October 4th at 7.30pm. 'Look, Stranger' celebrates National Poetry Day through the poetry of WH Auden - arguably the greatest English poet of the 20th Century, who died 40 years ago this month and the the songs of Benjamin Britten set to Auden's poetry, in vibrant new jazz arrangements by Ruthie Culver & The UtterJazz Quartet.

McElhone shot to fame in 'Surviving Picasso' with Antony Hopkins, going on to leading roles in 'The Truman Show' with Jim Carrey, 'The Devil's Own' with Brad Pitt, 'Ronin' with Robert De Niro and 'Solaris' with George Clooney. Her latest film is a new version of Romeo & Juliet scripted by Julian Fellowes (creator of Downton Abbey) and co-starring Damian Lewis, due for release later this month.

For television she was acclaimed for the title role in 'The Other Boleyn Girl' and now has ongoing lead in the hit US series 'Californication' with David Duchovny. However, her early acting career included many theatre classics such as Shakespeare and Chekhof, so 'Look, Stranger' is rare opportunity to return to the poetic language she so loves. She will also be reading for the Forward Poetry Prize event at London's South Bank Centre next week, alongside Helen McRory and Juliette Stevenson.

McElhone's moving book 'After You' was published in 2011 about the untimely death of her beloved husband Martin in 2008, and the aftermath of being left with two young boys and pregnant with a third.

UtterJazz was created by singer Ruthie Culver to create inspiring live events with jazz and poetry. The performance of 'Look, Stranger' in Lyme Regis is part of a

Actors reading Auden at other venues include Samuel West and Sir Derek Jacobi. The show has been a sell-out success at its 3 performances so far, with jazz singer Ruthie Culver and her UtterJazz Quartet bringing swing, samba, funk, blues and grooves to Britten's stunning melodies and harmonies. With 'satirical, romantic and witty' lyrics by W.H. Auden, they are reinterpreted through all the technicolour influences of 21st century iazz, infused with classical sounds and unique improvisations that everyone can enjoy. # Choirs come together for special concert with folk star

MEMBERS of the Axe Valley Community Choir, now in its fifth year, and the Charmouth and Bridport Rock and Pop Choir, a much more recent venture, are to be involved in an exciting venture with the well-known folk artist Charlie Dore with Julian Littman at the Electric Palace in Bridport. The new combined choir is to be known as the Electric Chorus, and will perform with Dore and Littman in Bridport on October 17th.

Award winning artist Charlie Dore is known for her bittersweet, subversive and original lyrics, sitting atop addictive melodies. From contemporary folk, through rootsy Cuban to her iconic hit 'Pilot of the Airwaves', the music refuses to be pigoen-holed. Her songs have been covered by the good and the great, from George Harrison through to Tina Turner, but her live concerts reveal that actually she keeps the best songs for herself.

Constantly swapping guitars, mandolin, ukelele and harmonium with Julian Littman, the energy is infectious. For their night at the Electric Palace they'll be joined by Edward's Electric Chorus - a mighty amalgam of two local choirs put together especially for the concert by choir leader Edward Jacobs. The choir will open the concert with their own set as well as joining Charlie for several songs.

A great evening of gorgeous harmonies is promised.

Burma comes to Lyme Regis

NORTHERN International Theatre brings a compelling performance to Lyme's Marine Theatre on Friday, October 18th.

'The Burma Play, a comedy of terror' is a humorous, politically-sharp two-hander with original live music. Virtuoso performances run through the years of empire and dictatorship towards the current hopes and fears of the Burmese people.

A popular entertainer struggles to restore his damaged memory by going over his life and times. All he can recall is darkness and fear. His colleague pushes him to face the past by replaying their repertoire of gags, wordplay and sketches.

By turns darkly funny, poignant and tragic, a series of ingenious quick-cutting scenes communicate a modern history of Burma and its special connection with the UK.

After a short interval the hour-long performance is followed by a cast/audience discussion. Change has recently come to Burma, including the release of Aung San Suu Kyi and her election as an MP. But many political prisoners remain in jail; forced labour, ethnic and religious violence, displacement of people and the use of child soldiers continue. Recently asked how democratic Burma is on a scale of one to 10, Aung San Suu Kyi replied 'We are on the way to one'.

The audience at this performance will include Anna Roberts (Director of the Burma Campaign UK) and Kate Allen (Director of Amnesty International in the UK), so the discussion will have an extra flavour.

Northern International Theatre is a professional group brought together specifically to present The Burma Play. They have performed from the Edinburgh Festival Fringe to the Burmese community in London's Thingyan festival. They work free of charge: all the evening's proceeds will be shared between The Burma Campaign and Amnesty International which both support democracy and safety for the Burmese peonle Director David Bell, born in Burma, has clocked up more than 50 plays in fringe, regional and touring theatre. Anglo-Burmese performer Cilla Baynes's father was in the next room to Aung San, the independence leader and father of Aung San Suu Kyi, when he was assassinated in 1947. Director of Community Arts Northwest, Cilla was awarded an MBE for her work. Musician/composer Omar Sattaur lived as a journalist in South Asia and now performs with several ensembles including the international fusion band Beating Wing.

The play is promoted by the Lyme Regis Group of Amnesty International, the performance is at 7.30pm on Friday, October 18th. Tickets cost £7 (£6 concessions) online from www.marinetheatre.com, from the Tourist Information Centre in Lyme Regis (01297-442138), by calling 01297 442237, or on the door.

Alfred Russel Wallace and Natural Selection by Dr Peter Raby

ALFRED Russel Wallace was one of the late nineteenth century's most outstanding scientific thinkers. He is probably best known as the co-discoverer (with Charles Darwin) of the principle of natural selection but he also made significant contributions in many other fields and founded the discipline of biogeography. Followers of Wallace still regard him as the pre-eminent field biologist, collector and naturalist of tropical regions - he collected over 125,000 natural history specimens in SE Asia alone.

However, his work in many areas is not well known even today and his significant achievements remain poorly recognised. In his talk, Dr Peter Raby of Homerton College, Cambridge, who wrote a biography of Wallace in 2001, will seek to redress the balance. He will describe how Wallace wrote to Charles Darwin excitedly outlining his new theory of natural selection, throwing Darwin into a panic. Just two weeks later Darwin's outline and Wallace's paper were jointly presented in London. The following year Darwin, using much of the material from Wallace's meticulous research, published On the Origin of Species to wide acclaim. Wallace. meanwhile, was still on the other side of the world - his crucial contri-

bution to the work largely overlooked. Dr Raby's talk, The Man

who Selected Darwin, complements the Museum's current exhibition Alfred Russel Wallace: A Centenary Celebration which provides a rare opportunity to see its entire collection of brightly coloured bird skins from Wallace's Malay Archipelago trip in 1854-1855. Dr Raby has also written widely on drama and the theatre and is the editor of the Cambridge Companions to Oscar Wilde and Harold Pinter.

The lecture takes place at 7.30pm on Wednesday, October 23rd. Entry is free and the doors are open from 7pm.

Email your Diary Dates to rob@pemedia.co.uk Deadline midday Monday. An evening with the humour of Bob Newhart and Tom Lehrer

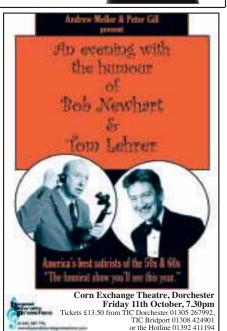

WELL-KNOWN jazz and rock 'n' roll piano/vocalist Peter Gill, and highly regarded fringe actor Andrew Meller, have joined forces to present a fabulous new, 90-minute show dedicated to the satirical humour of American comic legends Bob Newharty and Tom Lehrer.

Origination from the 1950s and 1960s, audiences will once again be rolling around with laughter as they are reminded of Newhart's Driving Instructor, Introducing Tobacco to Civilisation and The Cruise of the U.S.S. Codfish and Lehrer's sharp-witted songs Poisoning Pigeons in the Park, I Got It From Agnes and The Masochism Tango.

This is a wonderfully entertaining and light-hearted evening of wit suitable for those with at least a modicum of a sense of humour.

'An evening with the humour of Bob Newhart & Tom Lehrer' will take place at the Corn Exchange Theatre, Dorchester on Friday, October 11th from 7.30:m, Tickets (unreserved) cost £13.50 from TIC ODrchester (01305 267992), TIC Bridport (01308 424901) or the Hotline on

Privately situated detached bungalow of immense quality and unique styling

THE bungalow, which has gas heating and doubleglazed uPVc woodgrain effect windows, provides adaptable accommodation with the potential for further extension. The loft area, with skylights, is extensive and would lend its-self (subject to planning) to the creation of further living space. In brief the bungalow provides; an impressive approach through wide double doors to a lobby with cloakroom off; dining hall with access to the garden; sitting room with Minster stone fireplace; study; comprehensively fitted kitchen/breakfast room with integrated appliances; utility room; three double-bedrooms (the master having an en-suite shower-room and a family bathroom. Externally there is a double garage with remotely controlled up and over door and further vehicle hard standing. A feature of the property are the extensive gardens which extend to about 0.44 of an acre. There is a delightful wooded area, with many mature trees. The formal gardens extend to four sides of the bungalow and enjoy a high degree of privacy. The gardens have wide lawned areas and private seating areas. The cul-de-sac is approached by a Private road and extends in total to three bungalows all of a similar quality and nature. Given the uniqueness and size of the property internal viewing is most strongly advised.

Springcroft is situated about three miles from the Historic Seaside town of Lyme Regis which has a famous Cobb area and numerous quality retailers. Axminster, with mainline railway station, is about three miles distant. Axminster has a wide array of independent retailers including butchers and greengrocers. There are many restauraunts in the town recreational parks and schools. River Cottage Canteen and deli is based in the town. Supermarkets are also available on the outskirts. The A35 link road is to hand providing access to the South West and M5 motorway as well as Eastwards along the Jurassic coastline.

This detached bungalow is on the market for £450,000. Viewing is by appointment with Palmer Snell Lyme Regis 01297 443556

This light and contemporary two bedroom open plan property is located close to the high street and beaches

SUNPATCH is a modern contemporary property built in 2009 situated in a quiet and convenient location just off the high street. It has many interesting and quirky features that include timber framed double glazed windows, open plan living space that incorporates lounge/diner and kitchen, log burner, window seats and double doors that open onto a sunny decked area, with two ground floor bedrooms both with en-suites and a second outside area. The property offers light airy accommodation with a relaxed sea side atmosphere and is offered to the market with no onward chain.

Lyme Regis is famed for its many historic connections and character buildings, and of course, for its well-known Cobb Harbour. As a resort, it is considered quite unspoilt, but has most of the shops and amenities that one could require, in addition to which there are numerous leisure activities including both sailing and power boat clubs, a cliff top golf course and a bowling club. The whole coastline with Lyme Regis and Charmouth at its centre has recently been designated a World Heritage Site (and is commonly known as the Jurassic Coast), putting it in the same category as the Grand Canyon. It lies approximately 5 miles from the market town of Axminster, with its main line railway connections to Waterloo (Approx. 2 3/4 hours). The market town of Bridport is approximately 7 miles distant, with Taunton and Exeter within a radius of about 30 miles with access to the M5 motorway. The county town of Dorchester is within a similar distance.

A viewing is highly recommended to appreciate all this property has to offer. Please call Fortnam Smith & Banwell Estate Agents on 01297 - 445666 to arrange a viewing.

Tristar Worldwide puts the Volvo V60 Plug-In Hybrid on trial

has taken delivery of three Volvo V60 plugin hybrids to trial as part of the Energy Saving Trust's Plugged-In Fleet Initiative (PIFI).

The vehicles will be with Tristar for six to eight months covering over 20,000 miles each. Initially placed with key decision makers at Tristar, the vehicles will then be rolled out to chauffeurs to fully assess the operational benefits of a Plug-in Hybrid.

The V60 Plug-in Hybrid works by the front wheels being powered by a five-cylinder 2.4-litre turbo diesel producing 215 hp and maximum torque is 440 Nm, while the rear axle is powered by an electric motor producing 70 horsepower, all while only producing 48g/km of CO2 on the combined

Funded by the Department for Transport and Transport for London, PIFI aims to demonstrate where plug-in vehicles can work practically to fulfil and maximise business needs, show where the vehicles work economically and provide vital insights into the fleet plug in vehicle market.

Chosen as part of 20 participating fleets in the initiative including Network Rail and the Environment Agency, Tristar's trial is aimed at helping explore if the currently used Volvo diesels could be replaced with Plug-and overall driver and customer feedback before compiling a final PIFI report at the trial's conclusion.

Despite only recently taking delivery of the vehicles, driver feedback has already been positive with drivers praising the ride quality and overall performance of the vehicle.

Dean De Beer, Tristar Worldwide Chauffeur Services CEO said: "It's important that we can offer our discerning clients a wide range of vehicle options including an ultra-low emission solution and the Volvo V60 Plug-in Hybrid is a potential option for this. We are constantly updating our Volvo fleet and the safety features in the latest cars are definitely helping us to reduce our operational costs. We hope that we can achieve similar gains with this vehicle."

Selwyn Cooper, Volvo Car UK national corporate operations manager said: "The V60 Plug-in Hybrid is the perfect vehicle for chauffeurs as it pairs luxury with a smooth and quiet driving experience. During the trial Tristar can look forward to reducing their overall running costs as well as placing their clients in the back of one of the safest cars on the road today."

ŠKODA auto is the largest manufacturing company in Central Europe for the third year in succession

That's the main finding from the Central Europe (CE) Top 500 report, carried out by respected auditing firm Deloitte. It's the largest study of its kind on the region's economy, and is based on sales figures from 2012.

ŠKODA is placed third among companies across all industrial sectors for the third time in a row. The CE Top 500 includes a total of 84 Czech companies. ŠKODA's position as number one reflects the traditional car manufacturer's outstanding reputation, sales and development.

"ŠKODA is an important part of the Czech economy and has become an internationally recognised volume manufacturer," said Bohdan Wojnar, ŠKODA Board Member for Human Resources.

CE Top 500. Companies from a total of 18 countries were included in the study

In 2012, ŠKODA reported a turnover of €10.4 billion, making it by far the highest-revenue manufacturing company in the area. Delivering 939,200 vehicles, up 6.8% on the 2011 total, the Czech manufacturer achieved a new sales record in 2012. Its operating profit was €712 million. ŠKODA is set to grow even further in the years ahead. Its well-publicised growth strategy targets an increase in worldwide annual sales to at least 1.5 million by 2018. To achieve that, the most ambitious new product launch in the brand's 118-year history is underway. In 2013 alone, the brand has launched seven new or completely revised mod-

At the recent Frankfurt Motor Show, the company presented two world premieres – the all-new ŠKODA Rapid Spaceback and the completely revised ŠKODA Yeti. This vehicle has now been split into two distinct model ranges. the ŠKODA Yeti for the city and the ŠKODA Yeti Outdoor for

As part of its growth plans, ŠKODA is set to expand in the international emerging markets of China, India and Russia. The company is also investing heavily in its home market to support its position in Europe. In 2012 alone, the company's fixed asset investments increased by around 45% to a record €832 million. The vast majority of this was allotted to investments in the Czech Republic.

The main production plant in Mladá Boleslav has been extensively modernized and expanded to accommodate production of the ŠKODA Rapid and Rapid Spaceback, plus the new ŠKODA Octavia. The Technology & Development Centre in nearby Cesana is currently being extended. Around €34 million has been invested in construction of a new Powertrain Centre alone.

The importance of ŠKODA for the Czech economy is reflected in the numerous awards is has received. This year, the manufacturer won the 'Czech Top 100' competition for the 16th time. Victory in the individual category of 'Most Admired Company' also went to ŠKODA.

Mitsubishi Motors 40 years in Europe: The reference market

THIS month will mark the start of a milestone year for Mitsubishi Motors Corporation (MMC) as it is about to celebrate forty years of non-stop presence in the most strategic European market, from its first official display at the London Motor Show in October 1974 to the launch of the pioneering Outlander PHEV from late 2013 onwards.

Mitsubishi Goes International

Even though small numbers of Mitsubishi vehicles were already present in a few selected European countries, namely Spain (1956) and Greece (1962), Mitsubishi's own corporate export move to Europe came as a result of a unique agreement in February 1970 between Mitsubishi Heavy Industries Co. (MHI) and Chrysler Corporation whereby MHI would 1) spin off its already existing auto division and 2) join forces with Chrysler to create "Mitsubishi Motors Corporation" (MMC).

In May 1971, a further deal between Mitsubishi Motors Corporation and Chrysler International S.A. included the distribution of Mitsubishi vehicles through the global Chrysler International dealer network, except for Japan, the United States and Canada.

In a separate move, MMC became a joint company, shared by MHI (85%) and Chrysler Corporation (15%) from September 1971.

1974 London Motor Show

However, restricted by the terms of this agreement,

Mitsubishi Motors sales remained very limited in Furope (4,861 units in total between 1971 and 1975) at a time sales of other Japanese brands soared, increasing from 16,458 units in 1965 to 126,275 units in 1970, to reach 528,486 units in 1975.

Eventually, in 1974, MMC and Chrysler International reached an agreement allowing MMC to develop its own sales & marketing activities in Europe.

From thereon, distribution rights were granted to independent companies, first in Belgium & Luxemburg (August 1974), followed within a few weeks by the Netherlands and then the United Kingdom, the country where Mitsubishi Motors is officially launched in Europe at the London Motor Show in October.

Lancer and Galant are both introduced at that milestone motor show and then made available to the European public from 1975 in those three countries, after similar successful unveilings at the Brussels Motor Show and the Amsterdam Motor Show (Au-

The rest of Europe will follow in due course, whether open to Japanese imports (e.g. Germany in 1977) or restricted by quotas (e.g. France in 1978). In the meantime, the agreement with Chrysler International had reached an end in August 1982, whilst MMC had already established a first liaison office in Rotterdam in 1977, the forerunner of today's Mitsubishi Motors Europe B.V. still based in the Netherlands.

Dorset lose opener to Devon

DORSET lost their opening match in the S&W Counties Championship Competition, going down 2-0 against local rivals Devon at Newton

Dorset started the brighter of the two teams, pushing Devon back in their own half for long spells without causing the host defence too many problems.

Flyn Begley and Dan Morris both had shots deflected for corners by the home keeper Callum Khun.

The half time break seemed to serve the hosts well, as they pressed Dorset back on Taylor Hibbs making two sharp saves before leaving the field through injury.

Fifteen minutes after the break an incisive counter attack from Devon put Fletcher Williams through on the left before unleashing an unstoppable shot over the top of replacement keeper Gerrard Benfield.

Two minutes later the visitors almost conceded a second when a shot hit the post and rolled in front of goal.

However it evaded the incoming striker before being scrambled to safety.

With both teams using their full Dorset began to press Devon back again, going close to equalising when a Lee Watkins free kick floated on top of the crossbar and again when a Sam Glatzel goal bound shot was tipped over by Klun in the home

New indoor youth season gets underway

THE West Dorset Youth In-door Cricket League sponsored by and played at The Osprey Leisure Centre got underway on Saturday with two games in the Under 12's league. U12s - Portland 88-2

beat Weymouth A 87-3 by four wickets

AFTER winning the toss Weymouth elected to bat and found runs hard to come by as Portland produced accurate bowling and fine field-ing, with debutant Jacob Coombes striking in the third over ro remove Owen Lovett (1) with a brilliant caught and bowled.

This brought Peter Sapsworth (28 not out) to the wicket and he, along with fellow opener Tom (24), produced a stand of 47 runs that contained some glorious stroke play and fine running between the wickets.

With Sapsworth retiring,

Portland quickly took two more wickets as the runs dried up and Weymouth closed on 87-3.

Portland's reply began well with ten runs coming from the first over.

A needless run out accounted for Owen Harrison (4) as Weymouth looked to apply pressure with some excellent bowling, but Coombes (18) and William Cotter (24 not out) kept the run rate up with some stylish stroke placement and confident running.

Coombes was run out with the score on 56 which brought Michael Dunning (14 not out) to the wicket and he and Cotter took full advantage of anything wayward to steer Portland to vic-tory with 16 balls to spare.

Portland Man of the Match: William Cotter.

U12s - Cerne Valley 168 -1 beat Weymouth 63 all out by 105 runs

CERNE produced a batting masterclass as they put a plucky Weymouth to the sword in an emphatic victory.

Chasing a formidable target Weymouth were always up against it and despite a fluent 31 not out from Charlie P, were finally dismissed for 63 in the final over after put-ting up a great rearguard action against a side at the top of their game.

Grant Neven Indoor League co-ordinator added: "Great cricket, great sportsmanship and more than a little skill; the season got off to a brilliant start today and if the players can reproduce cricket of this standard every week, all spectators and sup-porters are in for a treat this winter out. Well played all."

BRIDPORT EVOLUTION BASKETBALL CLUB Nomads punish weakened Evolution

Exeter Nomads 106 Bridport Evolution 58

A WEAKENED Bridport Evolution side were punished by Exeter and District Basketball League title contenders Exeter Nomads as the Dorset club began their league campaign last week. The well drilled Exeter team proved why they are hotly tipped for the title this season with a ruthless offensive display.

Bridport had gone into the season opener as underdogs and were handicapped further when two key players pulled out with injury on the day of the encounter.

Things then went from bad to worse for the Bridport side with some draconian refereeing putting a number of the team into foul trouble in the early stages.

The strict marshalling continued, with no less than 59 free throws between the teams, and the stop-start nature of the game meant neither side was able to dictate the tempo. The match became a tactical battle but the experienced Nomads team had an answer for everything Evolution had to offer how ever, and scored freely from all areas of the court.

Leading the scoring for the home side was last season's league MVP Alex Boyle, who picked up 25 points for the hosts. Bridport's top scorer was Dan Park who had five assists and Glover and Captain Craig Sorrell adding nine points apiece. The rest of the points were spread well among the squad

Gavin King, who was called up at short notice, frustrated the opposition all night long with his tenacious defence and Alex Reid, another last minute replacement, led the rebounding with eight and scored the final points of the game with a fade

The Beaminster committee have worked hard in the summer to recruit new blood to the club after the usual loss of players leaving for university, and it was rewarded with an energetic and enthusiastic display by a side containing a balance of experience and young talent.

Such was Beaminster early dominance that the Bournemouth keeper was forced into three excellent saves to prevent the home side from adding to their score, and although they settled down to make some inroads into the home half they found Beaminster's defence a tough one to breakthrough and it wasn't until the final five minutes that home keeper Lisa Condliffe was forced into a save.

Despite a number of efforts on goal it wasn't until the 23rd minute that Beaminster in creased their lead with a rarely seen penalty flick after a player was penalised for using the

Bees earn quality point at Cadbury

Cadbury Heath 2 Bridport 2
BRIDPORT were well worth a point following their trip to Bristol on Saturday and came close to taking all three against a strong Cadbury Heath side.

Bridport started slowly against the Heathen's long ball style and fell behind on 16 minutes to a good goal from Matt Huxley, one of the league's most prolific scorers.

Shane Evans headed George Boon's corner away to the edge of the box where Huxley chested the ball down before firing a volley into the top corner giving Bees keeper San Filkins no chánce.

The gloveman then did well to tip a long range shot over his crossbar.

Darren Watts replied with a 25 yard shot that just dipped over the bar as Bridport started to get into the game, before setting up the Bees equaliser.

Dan Wise played the ball in behind the home full back who got a touch. It looked to be running out for a corner, but the former Magpie eased his man off the ball before running along the byeline and playing it into Ryan Dovell Bridport started the second half the better team but were caught out after five minutes when the Heathens broke quickly after clearing a Bridport corner, and when the ball was played into the box Evans was adjudged to have brought Lewis Shipp down in the area. Filkins got the better of the normally reliable Huxley from the spot kick however, getting down brilliantly to his left to save the penalty.

Bridport went ahead on 64 minutes when the home defence were caught out by Wise's quick free kick which found Tom Richardson inside the six yard box who forced the ball home at the back post.

The Bees could have extended their lead when Dovell just failed to keep the ball down as he slid in to meet Wise's cross and the ball flew over the bar, whilst Cadbury hit the bar and were just wide with a couple of headers.

It looked like the visitors had done enough to hang on for victory, but with five minutes left Liam Dempsey picked the ball up on the halfway line and ran unchallenged towards goal before releasing a thunderbolt from 25 yards

Reserves back to winning habit

Bridport Reserves 2 Tintinhull 1

BRIDPORT Reserves returned to winning ways after three defeats in the Bespoke Teamwear Dorset Premier League, but once again were wasteful in front of goal.

They made the start they needed with Jack Scovell volleying home a corner from the six yard box and Ben Clarke heading home another flag kick inside 17 minutes. Then having wasted a couple of opportunities to extend the lead, the Tinmen struck back with an unstoppable Max Harrington free kick before the break.

Bridgort dominated the second half. Although they struck the woodwork twice, had another effort cleared off the line, and saw Tristan Gale's penalty saved, they could not add to their score.

Manager Robin Townsend said: "We should have put the game to bed with the chances we had, but in the end it was pleasing performance. Chris Senior once again led with his talking and both Russell Legg and Luke King, who was outstanding, were also impressive.

The lads were really focussed and if we can continue you like that we will

Stordy hits seven minute hat trick nate goal; the Cobham wall jumping in the

Bridport Thirds 5 AFC Cobham 1

BRIDORT Thirds exacted revenge on AFC Cobham who beat them 2-1 in the reverse fixture two weeks earlier, by trouncing them in the return, although it took a seven minute Adam Stordy hat trick to ensure the scoreline reflected their superiority.

The Bees bright start was rewarded with an early goal when Ryan Gall somehow dragged Chris Herbst cross from behind him in one motion to fire them ahead. They then took their foot off the pedal and Cobham equalised when they failed to clear their lines following a corner.

The game became much more even with both sides striking the bar; Gall with a header for Bridport and a long range effort from the visitors.

Bridport stepped up the pressure in the air allowing Herbst low free kick to go into the far bottom corner. Stordy struck first with a header that found the bottom corner, and despite the visiting keeper making a series of excellent saves just after couldn't get anywhere near his 30 yard strike that zipped into the net. He then completed his hat trick after playing a one-two with Gall.

Manager Andy Hitchcock who struggled to get eleven players many times last year, had a squad of fourteen.

"This result should set us up a bit and give us confidence. Hopefully having a full squad with more yet to return throughout the three Bridport teams means that those with the shirts today need to ensure they continue to train and work hard to keep

Stylish start to the season for Seventeens

Thursday October 10th THE Bridport Youth Under 17 football team 7" Clock v Dingbats have made an encouraging start to the new season, with two comprehensive wins over Mens Nomination Cup teams from Weymouth in the newly formed age category of the Dorset Youth League. 2nd Round (4 byes) Thursday October 10th

Before the first match, home sponsor and local business man David Taylor of David Taylor Property Services presented the new kit to manager Terry Warren and the team. David said how proud he was to be invited to supply the new home kit to the newly formed team, and wished Terry and the team the very best of luck for the season.

5 minutes into their first game against Weymouth Cougars a Sam Tabner corner was flicked on by Billy Jones for captain Jordan Gregory to make it 1-0. After a dubious offside flag denied him a goal Sam Tabner doubled the score with a neat shot through the keeper's legs. After a clever Will Lovell flick was also called offside Jonah Ayunga broke through the Weymouth defence only to be brought down in the box. After scoring the penalty Ayunga, made it 4-0 at half-

A complacent start to the second half by Bridport was punished by two quick strikes from the Cougars, helped by a very bumpy goalmouth .Bridport sregrouped and continued to press hard and were rewarded by two more goals from Sam Tabner, the first from a penalty kick. Cougars had to clear several shots from their goal line to keep the final score at 6-2.

The match against Weymouth Wanderers was won in similar style, with a final score of 8-2. Although again the team conceded an early goal in the second half, Bridport managed to maintain pressure on their opposition for the majority of the match, despite some lack of discipline by their opposition in the latter parts of the game. Every player actively contributed towards the emphatic win, with standout performances from Tom Foulsham and Jonah Ayunga. Sam Tabner showed his characteristic tenacity up front and was rewarded with a concussion and a trip to hospital. Bridport goals came from: Ayunga (4), Will Lovell, Jordan Gregory, Billy Jones and Olly Mullins.

Manager Terry Warren said: "The lads have trained hard over the summer and it's an encouraging start to the season. We've got some tough matches coming up so we'll need to stay fit and focused"

Ryan ends season on high

The Sir John Colfox School Athletics

RYAN Smith ended a highly successful season by breaking his own discus record by nearly three

Smith (17), who is a pupil at The Sir John Colfox School and was selected by the English Schools this year after another impressive season, was taking part in the Last Ditch Throw Meet at Newquay; the final athletics meet of the year.

Smith threw the discus an astonishing 48.11m which broke his own Dorchester Athletics Club record he won in the summer, and saw him finish the season ranked 7th in the country.

It is an meteoric rise for Smith who only took up the discus seriously three years ago and is grateful to Bridport Leisure Centre for allowing him to train at their facilities.

He said: "They have been incredibly king in showing their support for aspiring young athletes, and I would like to thank Nick Neale for giving me the opportunity to train at the gym.

"Without the use of the BLC I would never have made the progress that I have this year."
